The Center for the Study of Racism, Social Justice & Health at UCLA hosts a Distinguished Quarterly Speaker Series during each quarter of the academic year. For Spring 2023, we will host a discussion on the topic of addressing racism and health inequities from within an HBCU.

We invite you to join us for this exciting panel - featuring Dr. Bitá Amani (Charles R. Drew University of Medicine & Science) and Dr. Monica Ponder (Howard University), moderated by Dr. Chandra Ford (Founding Director of the Center for the Study of Racism, Social Justice & Health at UCLA). We will examine the unique challenges, benefits, and experiences of working to address racism and health inequities from within the structure of a historically black educational institution.
